Welcome White Cap Southeast!

BuildSite is pleased to welcome 25 new White Cap (www.whitecapdirect.com) stores, from Richmond, Virginia to Gainesville, Florida. Many of these stores were part of the Building Materials Group of Hughes Supply. Hughes Supply was recently acquired by Home Depot, White Cap's parent company.

BuildSite would like to give particular thanks to Jerry Jones of White Cap who spearheaded the rollout.

With the addition of the Southeast stores, BuildSite is now in over 130 stores in the White Cap network. Inside sales reps use BuildSite to quickly answer customer questions over the phone, while a growing number of outside sales reps access BuildSite from their trucks and from jobsites using mobile devices, such as Bluetooth. This will be the subject of another announcement.

Once again, welcome White Cap Southeast!
