

BuildSite Mobile

Search for and Send Product Data from Your Mobile Phone

BuildSite Mobile allows you to search for product information from 390 manufacturers on your mobile device. Now, from the road or from the jobsite, you can access and email product datasheets, MSDS, and more.

Access BuildSite's database by logging in at our site, m.buildsite.com, specifically optimized for mobile devices.

Search our industry- leading database of over 20,000 products

BuildSite's comprehensive database of product and technical information provides access to hundreds of manufacturers' product data in one easily-searched mobile site.

Find the construction products and documentation you need

Combine product category and manufacturer search with any number of LEED attributes to find the products that meet your project specs.

Top Features

Log in at m.buildsite.com

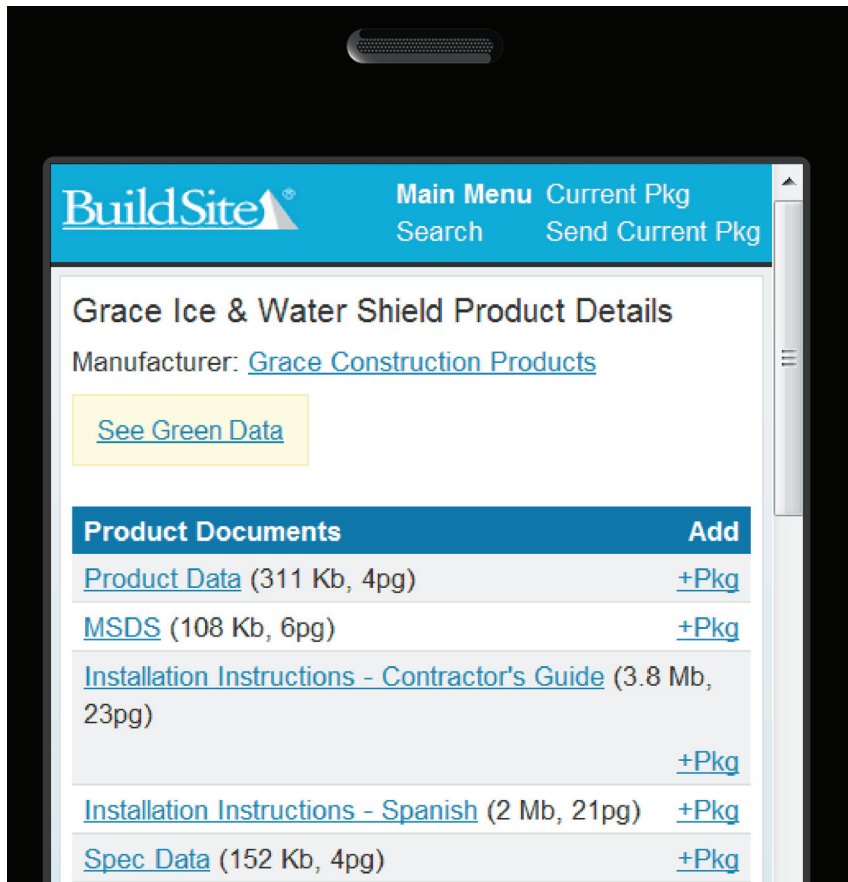

Search over 20,000 products from more than 390 manufacturers in 1050 categories

Find product data, MSDS, Installation Details, and complete product systems

Add datasheets to your online package

Message packages of product information to customers and other members of the project team.

Works on any mobile phone with a browser!

Want to Learn More?

Contact Melanie Loftus
Senior Product Manager
1.510.208.4428
mloftus@buildsite.com

BuildSite LLC
827 Broadway, Suite 310
Oakland, CA 94607

Add items to the package and send to your customers or other members of the project team.

Add the documents you need to a package—a shopping cart of product data

From the product level, select the documents you would like to add to your custom package. If you choose to, you can save the group of products for future reference.

Share product information with customers and other members of your team

From your mobile device, message your custom package of product information via email or fax. Get the information you need while you are on the road or on the jobsite.