

Date: 5/1/06

Welcome New Customers!

Allied Building Products, Barton Supply, Structural Group, and Steel Engineers have all recently joined BuildSite as subscriber customers.

Allied Building Products (www.alliedbuilding.com) is a subsidiary of Oldcastle, Inc., part of the worldwide CRH plc group of companies. Allied operates over 130 distribution branches, serving contractors in residential roofing, commercial roofing, siding and windows and interiors. Initially Allied will be using BuildSite in its Design Centers located in East Rutherford, NJ, West Allis, WI, and Phoenix, AZ.

Barton Supply (www.barton-supply.com) provides concrete forming, rebar, concrete accessories and steel products from locations in Colorado. Barton's headquarters is in Aurora, CO.

Structural Preservation Systems is a division of Structural Group (www.structural.net). Structural Preservation Systems is the nation's largest specialty contractor focusing on structural repair, maintenance, waterproofing, geotechnical construction, and strengthening services. Structural's CEO, Peter Emmons, literally "wrote the book" on concrete repair, the definitive Concrete Repair & Maintenance Illustrated.

Steel Engineers, Inc. (www.steelengineers.com) serves the ever-growing southern Nevada market from two locations in Las Vegas. Steel Engineers provides reinforcing steel fabrication and placement, structural steel and plate fabrication, concrete accessories, shoring and forming materials, tools, and equipment rentals.

BuildSite is delighted to welcome each of these leading companies to the BuildSite family of subscribers.