

PRODUCTS

Hoover ExteriorFireX™

Put ExteriorFireX to work in your next project.

ExteriorFireX is pressure-impregnated leach resistant fire-retardant treatment and may be installed with direct exposure to precipitation; however, it cannot be substituted for preservative treated wood. Naturally durable species such as redwood or western red cedar treated with ExteriorFireX™ are recommended for above ground applications that must meet the durability requirements of the building codes.

SEE TECH SPECS

