

Warranty Services Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ's)

Q. How do I initiate the claim process?

- A. To initiate a claim you will need to provide us with the homeowner's name, address, phone number and your proof of purchase. This information should be sent to the Warranty Services Department at:

IKO Industries Inc.
Attn: Warranty Services Department
235 W. South Tec Dr.
Kankakee, IL 60901-8426
Fax 815-937-5695
Email: productconcerns.us@iko.com

If you are the roofing contractor or dealer calling on behalf of the homeowner, please have the homeowner's name, address, phone number and proof of purchase available.

Q. What information is included in the claim packet?

- A. The claim packet includes:
- A cover letter that explains in detail the information needed to file a claim and other important information to read before filing your claim with IKO.
 - A Homeowner's Inquiry Survey
 - A picture explanation page
 - A copy of the IKO Asphalt Shingle Limited Warranty
 - If shingle samples are required, an instruction sheet for removing full shingle samples from your roof. If a determination cannot be made based on the information submitted full shingle samples from the roof may be requested at a later date.

Q. I have an old claim packet that I never filed; can I use that to submit my claim?

- A. Yes

Q. Do I need a proof of purchase to file a claim?

- A. Yes, a valid proof of purchase provides valuable information in the evaluation of your concern. The proof of purchase provides information such as the number of bundles or squares applied to your roof, that the shingles are IKO, the type of IKO shingle purchased and the date they were purchased.

Q. Is it necessary to submit full shingles, from my roof, for my claim?

A. Full shingles from the roof may be required. Warranty Services will determine if full shingles from the roof are necessary once we receive the proof of purchase.

Full shingles from the roof allow IKO to:

- Assist in identifying that the shingles are IKO
- To fully evaluate the concern you are reporting
- To conduct any laboratory testing of the product, if applicable

Please note that for color concerns IKO requires two full shingles, from the roof, of the lighter color and two full shingles, from the roof, of the darker color. For Dynasty w/ArmourZone color concerns please submit three full shingles, from the roof, of the lighter and three full shingles of the darker color.

Q. I'm the homeowner, am I required to remove the full shingle samples from the roof myself?

A. Homeowners that are physically able, are well aware of the safety issues associated with roofing related procedures and know proper roofing practices can remove the full shingle samples themselves, if they desire. However, if the homeowner would prefer to contact a roofing contractor to perform this service they are welcome to. IKO will gladly reimburse the homeowner up to $100.00 for this service. To receive reimbursement, a copy of the receipt must be submitted to IKO and IKO will only reimburse the $100.00 if a settlement offer is made.

Q. Which full shingle samples should I submit with my claim?

A. For color concerns, two or three full shingles of the lighter color and two or three full shingles of the darker color should be selected. For other concerns, if IKO requests, two full shingles that reflect your concern the best should be submitted to IKO.

Q. Will my roof leak once the full shingle samples are removed?

A. Immediately after the full shingle samples are removed they must be replaced or the area properly tarped in order to prevent serious leakage.

Q. If IKO requests full shingles from the roof and I submit only pieces of the shingles instead will this delay my response from IKO?

A. Yes

Q. I have extra bundles of shingles that were never applied to the roof; can I submit them instead of full shingles from the roof?

A. No, shingles that have not been applied to your roof will not provide us with an accurate representation of your concern and may alter any laboratory testing results.

Q. How should I package the full shingle samples?

A. The full shingle samples should be shipped flat in a cardboard box. They should not be sent in several pieces. For your protection, IKO strongly recommends that you ship claim materials by a shipment method that can be tracked, such as certified mail or courier.

Q. The photographs show my concern. Can you make a determination by the photographs I submit, instead of me sending full shingle samples?

A. Once Warranty Services receives your proof of purchase they will be able to determine if shingle samples are necessary. The full shingles from the roof provide us with the information needed to assist in determining if the product is IKO, provide us with an example of how the roofing material is performing and are used if laboratory testing is required.

Q. Why doesn't IKO send a representative to my home to perform an onsite inspection?

A. IKO does not employ service representatives to complete onsite inspections. Based on past experience, having homeowners submit the information requested in the claim packet provides us with the information needed to fully evaluate and respond to their concern as quickly and accurately as possible.

Q. What areas of my roof should I photograph and how many photographs should I send?

A. Please submit at least seven clear color photographs. Photographs should include:

- Complete front of the structure
- General area of concern across the roof plane(s)
- Close-up photograph showing the concern
- The underside of the eave overhang (soffit vents)
- Photo taken in the attic facing toward the eave (soffit vent area) (if applicable)
- Complete back of the structure
- Front view showing the house number of the structure, if available

Q. My roof is currently covered with snow. Can I submit my claim in the spring?

A. Yes

Q. How long is the evaluation process?

A. Please allow up to 60 days after receipt of the requested information for a written response to your concern.

Q. If my claim is approved, how will I be compensated?

A. If our evaluation indicates your shingles have a manufacturing defect that resulted in a leak, your claim will be processed according to the terms of the IKO Asphalt Shingle Limited Warranty that was in effect when your shingles were applied. Shingles that are no longer covered by the Iron Clad Protection Period (3 – 15 years depending on the product) are subject to a prorated amount of the shingle value.

Q. Can I have the paperwork, photographs and full shingle samples back from IKO?

A. No, any paperwork, photographs and shingle samples provided with your claim become the property of IKO and cannot be returned to you.

Q. How do I figure out the number of squares applied to my roof?

A. One square equals 100 square feet of roof surface. The area of your roof should be measured in square feet and then divided by 100. This figure will be the number of squares that are on your roof. If you need assistance a roofing contractor should be able to assist you.

Q. How do I find out more about the Limited Warranty?

A. The current version of the Limited Warranty can be downloaded from our website at www.iko.com. Previous year limited warranties are available by contacting IKO Warranty Services Department at 800-433-2811 or via email at productconcerns.us@iko.com.

Q. Does the Limited Warranty cover incorrect application?

A. The IKO Asphalt Shingle Limited Warranty warrants against manufacturing defects resulting in leaks. It does not warrant against incorrect application. Please refer to your copy of the Limited Warranty that was in effect when your shingles were applied for full details.

Q. How long are my shingles warranted against blow-offs?
