

A Complete Exterior System

Your home's exterior consists of several components including siding, roofing, windows, ventilation, gutters and trim. To make it as attractive and easy-to-maintain as possible, you need to ensure all these components work together perfectly. That's System Thinking™.

Owens Corning is the only manufacturer that offers you a complete Exterior System featuring all the components you need to create a beautiful exterior. An exterior you'll be proud to come home to every day and one which will add value to your home.

But we do more than offer products. Just as our Exterior System accounts for all the necessary products, our Exterior Design System addresses every stage of the design process — making it easy to select and coordinate the products that will work best for your home, and your tastes.

Start by taking our What's Your Exterior Style? quiz to learn which of our Exterior Design Collections™ best meets your needs. Then use our Exterior FX Design Visualization program to pinpoint the specific products that work best with your design. Finally, our ProConnect™ Contractor Locator Service will help you hire an Owens Corning Preferred Contractor for installation.

No matter where you go, you'll soon learn that when it comes to exteriors, System Thinking Makes the Difference™!
